

PROMPT ACTION BY SUTHERLAND

Senator Uses His Influence to Bring Forester's Office to Salt Lake.

TALKS WITH MR. LEAVITT

ALSO SENDS EARNEST LETTER TO GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Hearing that efforts are being made to have the headquarters of the district forester of the intermountain region located in Ogden instead of Salt Lake, United States Senator George Sutherland had an interview with Clyde Leavitt, chief of organization of the bureau of forestry, Washington, and explained the reasons why the district forester should be located in Salt Lake.

In addition to this, Senator Sutherland wrote a strong letter to Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, urging that the headquarters of the district forester should be located in Salt Lake.

Until a short time ago, when reports were circulated that Ogden was trying to induce Chief Forester Pinchot to select that city as the headquarters of the district forester, no one here doubted that the offices were to be located in Salt Lake.

The announcement was made in Washington some time ago that Salt Lake had been named and as this seemed to settle the question of the location of the district forester's office, it was thought unnecessary to present to Chief Forester Pinchot any additional arguments in favor of Salt Lake.

Pinchot Visits Ogden.

About a month ago, Mr. Pinchot passed through Utah on his way from San Francisco to Washington, and he was in Ogden, but did not come to Salt Lake. This was the fact that the forestry supply department reported to be circulated that Ogden might succeed in inducing Mr. Pinchot to name that city as the headquarters of the district forester, who will handle fifty men under him and who will handle revenues aggregating $100,000 in the prospect of eventually having 150 men in the district and the handling of annual revenues of more than $1,000,000.

On hearing these reports, the Commercial club and other organizations took up the matter. Their presentation of claims of Salt Lake resulted in the sending of Mr. Leavitt to Utah to investigate the advantages of Salt Lake and Ogden.

Mr. Leavitt will report as soon as he arrives in Washington.

Sutherland Is Confident.

While here he was entertained at the Commercial club, where prominent men explained to him why the district forester should be stationed here. While Mr. Leavitt was not at liberty to give an opinion concerning the relative merits of Salt Lake and Ogden, he said that he was pleased with his visit here and was delighted with the hospitality with which he had been treated.

Senator Sutherland last night said that during his conversation with Mr. Leavitt the representative of the bureau of forestry did not express an opinion unfavorable to Salt Lake, or in favor of Ogden.

In the opinion of the senator, Salt Lake should be named as the district headquarters of the forestry service.

S. D. Evans.

Underwriter and embalmer, removed to new location, 48 South State street.

Removal Notice.

The Monroe studio has moved to new location, 35½ West Third South. All on the ground floor. Opposite Greenwald Furniture company. I will give my personal attention to all sittings in my new studio.

C. H. MONROE.

The finest floor in the state to dance on at the Odeon, Saturday, Sept. 5.

CASES SET FOR TRIAL.

Dates Are Fixed for Hearings Before Judge Armstrong.

Judge George G. Armstrong yesterday announced his criminal calendar for the September term. The calendar in full is as follows:

Sept. 11—Ben Jarrett, burglary, second degree.

Sept. 15—Altx Mattheus, burglary, second degree.

Sept. 16—Frank Petroselli, statutory offense.

Sept. 18—James Murphy, burglary, third degree.

Sept. 18—W. R. Shrons, obtaining money under false pretenses.

Sept. 21—Nick Pesce, assault with a deadly weapon.

Sept. 23—George Castellano, assault with a deadly weapon.

Sept. 23—Richard Deming, destroying jail property.

Sept. 24—H. K. Richards Hall, injuring railroad.

Sept. 25—Benjamin Hall, injuring railroad.

Sept. 28—Bessie Ross, grand larceny.

Sept. 28—Mamie Spencer, burglary, third degree.

Sept. 29—Minnie Benky, grand larceny.

Sept. 29—F. K. Brown, embezzlement.

Sept. 29—Milton Bayless, statutory offense.

Oct. 1—R. D. Gammon, embezzlement.

Oct. 2—George Wilson, burglary, second degree.

Oct. 3—Gertrude Reeves, murder, first degree.

Oct. 12—Mace Cochran, murder, second degree.

Oct. 15—Thomas Vance, murder, first degree.

Oct. 19—Steve Marovich, murder, first degree.

Open Every Saturday Night

For the convenience of depositors the Savings Department is open from 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock p. m.

The Safe Deposit Department is open from 8:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m.

Salt Lake Security & Trust Company

34 Up. Main Street

PRACTICAL JOKE KILLED IN DEATH

Eugenie Garvette Thrown From Horse Scared by Passing Fire Department.

GIRL'S SKULL FRACTURED

ALARM WAS TURNED IN BY SOME JOKER.

Miss Eugenie Garvette, cashier of the Majestic theatre, was thrown from her horse in front of the Salt Lake theatre Friday evening at 6 o'clock, and received a severe fracture of the skull, which may result in her death. She was picked up by passers-by and carried to Halliday's drug store, where Dr. Monahan made an examination of her injuries. She was then taken to the Holy Cross hospital, where an operation was performed. At a late hour last night she was still unconscious, and it is not believed that she will recover.

Miss Garvette had just left her apartments in the Tuxedo for her usual evening horseback ride. As she neared the corner of First South on State street, she saw the fire department leaving the station. She was thrown violently to the ground, and her horse was killed. She was not hurt at the time, but she did not get up again. Her horse was killed by the fire department. She was taken to the Holy Cross hospital, where an operation was performed. At a late hour last night she was still unconscious, and it is not believed that she will recover.

Pinchot Visits Ogden.

About a month ago, Mr. Pinchot passed through Utah on his way from San Francisco to Washington, and he was in Ogden, but did not come to Salt Lake. This was the fact that the forestry supply department reported to be circulated that Ogden might succeed in inducing Mr. Pinchot to name that city as the headquarters of the district forester, who will handle fifty men under him and who will handle revenues aggregating $100,000 in the prospect of eventually having 150 men in the district and the handling of annual revenues of more than $1,000,000.

On hearing these reports, the Commercial club and other organizations took up the matter. Their presentation of claims of Salt Lake resulted in the sending of Mr. Leavitt to Utah to investigate the advantages of Salt Lake and Ogden.

Mr. Leavitt will report as soon as he arrives in Washington.

Sutherland Is Confident.

While here he was entertained at the Commercial club, where prominent men explained to him why the district forester should be stationed here. While Mr. Leavitt was not at liberty to give an opinion concerning the relative merits of Salt Lake and Ogden, he said that he was pleased with his visit here and was delighted with the hospitality with which he had been treated.

Senator Sutherland last night said that during his conversation with Mr. Leavitt the representative of the bureau of forestry did not express an opinion unfavorable to Salt Lake, or in favor of Ogden.

In the opinion of the senator, Salt Lake should be named as the district headquarters of the forestry service.

S. D. Evans.

Underwriter and embalmer, removed to new location, 48 South State street.

Removal Notice.

The Monroe studio has moved to new location, 35½ West Third South. All on the ground floor. Opposite Greenwald Furniture company. I will give my personal attention to all sittings in my new studio.

C. H. MONROE.

The finest floor in the state to dance on at the Odeon, Saturday, Sept. 5.

CASES SET FOR TRIAL.

Dates Are Fixed for Hearings Before Judge Armstrong.

Judge George G. Armstrong yesterday announced his criminal calendar for the September term. The calendar in full is as follows:

Sept. 11—Ben Jarrett, burglary, second degree.

Sept. 15—Altx Mattheus, burglary, second degree.

Sept. 16—Frank Petroselli, statutory offense.

Sept. 18—James Murphy, burglary, third degree.

Sept. 18—W. R. Shrons, obtaining money under false pretenses.

Sept. 21—Nick Pesce, assault with a deadly weapon.

Sept. 23—George Castellano, assault with a deadly weapon.

Sept. 23—Richard Deming, destroying jail property.

Sept. 24—H. K. Richards Hall, injuring railroad.

Sept. 25—Benjamin Hall, injuring railroad.

Sept. 28—Bessie Ross, grand larceny.

Sept. 28—Mamie Spencer, burglary, third degree.

Sept. 29—Minnie Benky, grand larceny.

Sept. 29—F. K. Brown, embezzlement.

Sept. 29—Milton Bayless, statutory offense.

Oct. 1—R. D. Gammon, embezzlement.

Oct. 2—George Wilson, burglary, second degree.

Oct. 3—Gertrude Reeves, murder, first degree.

Oct. 12—Mace Cochran, murder, second degree.

Oct. 15—Thomas Vance, murder, first degree.

Oct. 19—Steve Marovich, murder, first degree.

Open Every Saturday Night

For the convenience of depositors the Savings Department is open from 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock p. m.

The Safe Deposit Department is open from 8:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m.

Salt Lake Security & Trust Company

34 Up. Main Street

LOCAL BRIEFS

POWLARD JACKSON COULAM, 6 years old, the son of George and Ella Jackson Coulam, died at 8:15 o'clock last evening of pneumonia at the family residence, 51 East Second South street. The funeral will be held Sunday.

ON A MOTION of Assistant County Attorney Carlson, the case of the state vs. Frank McCurtain, charged with grand larceny, was dismissed in police court yesterday.

DAN ZIGGICH, an Austrian, was sent to jail for sixty days by Justice of the Peace Lundberg yesterday. Ziggich is one of the Austrians who created the disturbances at Garfield recently. More foreigners will appear before Judge Lundberg Tuesday.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE was brought yesterday by Hilda P. East against Walter East. She alleges desertion after three months of married life. The marriage took place Jan. 28, 1907. She asks that her maiden name, Hilda Pedersen, be restored to her. She also asks for $100 monthly alimony and $50 attorney's fees.

THE FOULGER COMPANY of Garfield filed articles yesterday. The company will conduct a general mercantile business. The capital stock is $1,000, with shares at $10 each. The officers are: Joseph B. Foulger, president; David B. Foulger, vice president; Herbert B. Foulger, manager; Burdett Smith, secretary; Fred Foulger, treasurer.

F. E. BARKER has opened a law office at 506-507 Auerbach block.

IT WAS REPORTED to the city board of health yesterday that Frank Davis, son of Edward Davis of No. 51 North Sixth street, was suffering from diphtheria. The report was made by Dr. W. T. Cannon. The house was ordered placed under quarantine. There are now six houses under quarantine in the city. Thus far this week there has been no scarlet fever reported.

IMMIGRATION INSPECTOR LONGLEY filed a return yesterday, telegraphing a warrant for the arrest of Clarissa Valino, an Italian woman, illegally in the country. The woman is already under detention in Ogden, and Inspector Longley left last night to bring her to the city. She will be deported.

L. R. MARTINEAU left last evening for Cedar City to attend the state conference of the Mutual Improvement Association of Iron County. Mr. Martineau was born in that county, of which his father was one of the pioneers.

CHARLES A. QUIGLEY and family have returned from Ocean Grove. Mr. Quigley has recovered from the injuries received in his recent automobile accident.

INDIAN "JOE" CRAIG, an alleged peddler, was hanged on of Commercial street, made a second attempt to commit suicide Friday evening by taking a dose of carbolic acid. He was discovered a short time after he had taken the poison and after an hour's work was out of danger.

THE FUNERAL of Mrs. Francis Davis was held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Tenth ward meeting house.

STRAW HATS POPULAR.

Yesterday's Temperature Indicated an Extension of Season.

The people who had firmly discarded the hazy dimmed straw hat during the cool wave which swept over the city yesterday were forced to again resume the despised headgear. The weather man gave a decided indication that summer is not a thing of the past by raising the mercury in the official thermometers to 70 degrees.

Temperature at 8 p. m., 57 degrees. Minimum temperature, 50 degrees. Maximum temperature, 65 degrees. Mean temperature, 54, which is 4 degrees above normal. Total deficiency since the beginning of the month, 12 degrees. Total deficiency since Jan. 1, 20 degrees.

Precipitation at 8 p. m., 0 inch; total precipitation since first of the month, 0 inch, which is 12 inch below normal. Total excess since Jan. 1, 2.46 inch.

Piano Tuning.

Clayton-Davies Music Co. Three experts; regular prices. 109-113 Main.

Blank Books.

Tribune-Reporter Ptg. Co., 66 W. 2d St.

Good Printing.

Tribune-Reporter Ptg. Co., 66 W. 2d St.

Legal Blanks.

Tribune-Reporter Ptg. Co., 66 W. 2d St.

Loose Leaf Devices.

Tribune-Reporter Ptg. Co., 66 W. 2d St.

M'MILLAN CALLS OFF HIS WEDDING ENGAGEMENT WHILE RAWHIDE BURNS

Although it is reported from Reno that Nat C. Goodwin's mining interests were endangered by the fire which raged yesterday in the new Nevada town, fortune still smiles upon his dramatic affairs. Harry McMillan, his leading woman, a special wire from Reno states that the marriage of Goodwin and his leading woman, Edna Goodrich, has been postponed. A special wire from Reno states that the marriage of Goodwin and his leading woman, Edna Goodrich, has been postponed. A special wire from Reno states that the marriage of Goodwin and his leading woman, Edna Goodrich, has been postponed.

The engagement was announced by Mr. McMillan during a visit to Salt Lake last fall, and was heralded throughout the country.

When Mr. Goodwin heard of the engagement he immediately assumed his stern father attitude and announced in a stern and awful voice, "I forbid the banns."

LAD WALKS INTO STATION AHEAD OF ENGINE SENT TO BRING HIS BODY

If a special providence looks after drunken men and children, providence had its hands full last night with Lindon Whitaker, the 11-year-old son of Joseph Whitaker, an Oregon Short Line brakeman, who lives at 240 North Sixteenth West street.

The Whitaker family were returning from the Lagoon on the 9 o'clock train, and Lindon, by careful diplomacy, had secured a seat in the rear of the train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.

At the end of the North Salt Lake car line and boarded a car for the city.

Mr. Whitaker was nearly frantic over the loss of his boy, and his husband expected every moment to have the mangled body of his son brought to the station, the parents waited in grief and suspense for the return of the special train.

Before the engine had time to make the run to Hot Springs and return, Lindon, who was sitting in the rear of the train, saw the engine coming and he jumped out of the train and ran into the street.

Swiftly moving train, the lad had picked himself up and, finding that the train was not stopping, he ran into the street.